SEMINAR:

Brexit and beyond: changes to the legal and regulatory landscape of international communication

We live in a tumultuous time. At Monday's seminar, we considered the bigger picture, of the onslaught facing global communications norms, of fake news, online violent extremism and hate speech.

In this seminar we focus at one particular issue - the phenomenon of Brexit. We take that as a starting point for an assessment of what the future of communication law and regulation may look like, as media worlds continue to converge, in the UK, Europe, and India.

Moderator:

Monroe E. Price

Speakers:

Monica Arino, Director of International Affairs, Ofcom

David Attfield, Head of Programme Legal Advice, BBC
